

state commerce on or about February 11, 1941, by Rush Fish Co. from Boston, Mass.; and charging that it was adulterated and misbranded. It was labeled in part: "Sprayblown Fresh Cod Fillets Tenderloins of the Sea."

It was alleged to be adulterated in that a substance, cusk, had been substituted wholly or in part for cod, which it purported to be. It was alleged to be misbranded in that the statement "Cod Fillets" was false and misleading, since it was incorrect; and in that it was offered for sale under the name of another food.

On April 7, 1941, no claimant having appeared, judgment of condemnation was entered, and it was ordered that the product be destroyed.

1582. Adulteration of frozen whiting. U. S. v. 825 Boxes and 75 Boxes of Whiting. Default decrees of condemnation and destruction. (F. D. C. Nos. 3327, 3348. Sample Nos. 27474-E, 31864-E.)

Examination of this product showed the presence of decomposed fish.

On October 31 and November 15, 1940, the United States attorneys for the Southern District of Ohio and the Northern District of Illinois filed libels against 825 boxes of butterfly whiting at Cincinnati and Norwood, Ohio, and 75 boxes of H. and G. whiting at Chicago, Ill., alleging that the articles had been shipped on or about September 23 and 29, 1940, by Gloucester Seafoods Corporation from Gloucester, Mass.; and charging that they were adulterated in that they consisted in whole or in part of decomposed substances.

On December 10, 1940, and January 28, 1941, no claimant having appeared, judgments of condemnation were entered and the products were ordered destroyed.

1583. Adulteration of frozen salmon. U. S. v. 200,000 Pounds of Frozen Salmon. Consent decree of condemnation. Product ordered released under bond for segregation and destruction of the unfit portion. (F. D. C. No. 3483. Sample No. 55208-E.)

This product was in part putrid and decomposed.

On December 6, 1940, the United States attorney for the Western District of Washington filed a libel against 200,000 pounds of salmon at Seattle, Wash., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce within the period from on or about September 10 to on or about September 12, 1940, by the Portland Fish Co. from Celilo, Oreg.; and charging that it was adulterated in that it consisted in whole or in part of a putrid or decomposed substance.

On December 9, 1940, the Washington Fish & Oyster Co., Seattle, Wash., claimant, having consented to the entry of a decree, judgment of condemnation was entered, and the product was ordered released under bond conditioned that the portion fit for human consumption be segregated from the unfit and that both be disposed of in compliance with the law.
